WEST VIRGINIA LEGISLATURE.

EXTRA SESSION. THURSDAY, July 9, 1868. SENATE.

THURSDAY, July 9, 1868.

SENATE.

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment on yesterday, and was opened with prayer by Rev. D. W. Fisher, of the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Drummond, from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported back chapters 19 of the code (militia law), with amendments, inserting the word "white" where it had been stricken out, also, to add the following:

"Every shie bodied colored male person of the State over the age of 18 and under the age of 45, shall be separately enrolled; but shall not be required to perform ordinary militia duty; but shall be subject to draft in times of war, insurrection or invasion, and when drafted, or called into actual service, shall be placed in companies and regiments to themselves, and governed in all other respects by the law governing the militia."

All of said amendments were unanimously adopted and the chapter passed.

Mr. Drummond, from the Committee on Townships, &c., reported back the House bill, declaring a part of the bank of the Ohio River at Blennerhassett's Island, a lawful ience, recommending its passage, and it was ordered to its third reading.

Mr. Young presented the petition of R. Bayard and 75 others, citizens of Proahontas county, praying the charter of a railroad from Grafton by way of Phillippi, Belington, Beverly, Huitonsville, and Valley Head to White Sulphur Springs, which was referred to the Ommittee on Internal Improvements.

Mr. Wilson, by leave, introduced a

Mr. Wilson, by leave, introduced a bill authorizing the Fourth Street M. E. Church to borrow money, which was read the first and second time and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The "fish bill" was read the third time and passed.

The Senate bill authorizing H. H. Dils, of Wood county, to distrain for and collect certain back taxes, was referred to the Committee on Finance and Claims.

CONGRESS. NENATE-WASHINGTON, July 9.

WASHINGTON, July 9.

On motion of Mr. Edmunds the Secretary of State was requested to notify the Senate what States had ratified the 14th amendment and all information on the subject.

Mr. Cattell called up the bill to provide for further issue of temporary loan certificates for the purpose of redeeming and retiring the remaining outstanding compound interest notes. After some discussion it was postponed. The joint resolution to drop from the rolls of the army certain officers for

The joint resolution to drop from the rolls of the army certain officers for absenting themselves from their commands without leave.

The tax bill was considered and Mr. Pomeroy's amendment to restore the $2 tax was rejected.

Mr. Morton moved to make the amendment 90c.

After debate the motion was lost.

Mr. Van Winkle moved to relieve petroleum and kindred substances from internal taxation. Adopted.

The bill then passed.

Mr. Johnson asked permission of the Senate to trouble them with a few words. He had committed to writing

Mr. Johnson asked permission of the Senate to trouble them with a few words. He had committed to writing what he desired, and would ask his colleague to read them. Mr. Vickers then read the MS. of Mr. Johnson, which was his farewell address. After the reading the Senators generally dicked around Mr. Johnson to bid him tarewell. He was visibly affected. Mr. Edmunds called up his bill to regulate the representation of certain States in the Electoral College.
Mr. Drake moved to substitute as an amendment, providing that no eelctoral vote shall he given or counted from any State heretofore in insurrection until previous to the legal time of the election the State shall have been re-admitted to representation in Congress, nor unless the election be decition the State shall have been re-admitted to representation in Congress, nor unless the election be Mr. Drake moved to substitute as an amendment, not a provisional who were admitted to the extent of the dark of Missouri, took the Chalr.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Plummer.

Mr. Niblack, of Indians, moved to dispute the reading of the journal. Agreed to.

The vote for Chase was again hissed, which was responded to by overwhelming cheers.
On the 22d ballot California voted solid for Hendricks. Minnesota gave

Mr. Drake moved to substitute as an amendment, providing that, no selected manufacture in the content of the calculus of the upon several delegates to follow that lead.

Mr. Kiernan of New York, to relieve everybbody in the New York delegation, said, they havehad no lot nor part in this movement of Ohio. They had heard something of it but declined to take any part in it out of regard for the proper sensitiveness of the President of the Convention until other States should show by their action that Seymonr was demanded by the party in Convention. He urged the necessity of success in the campaign; expressed his opinion that Seymour could now accept the judgment of the Convention with honor, and that he should yield us a matter of duty to its wish, and with him as candidate New York was good for one hundred thousand majority.

The call of the roll was then proceeded with.

Mr. Clark, of Missouri, called for the ratification of the nomination by three cheers for Horatio Seymour, which were given with a will.

The chair announced the result of all the States having voted. The result was, for Seymour 317 votes. Enthusiastic cheering, the whole Convention and audience rising, waving hats, handkerchiefs, fans, &c., for several minutes. Loud cries for Seymour. Cries of down in front.

The Chair rapped with his gavel, and called to order in vain for several mincalled to order in vain for several min-

Mr. Preston of Kentucky, offered a resolution to proceed with the nomination for the Vice Presidency.

Mr. Woodward seconded the motion.

A new scene of confusion ensued on the call of States for the nomination of candidates for the Presidency.

One delegate from California eulogized H. H. Haight of that State, but was understood to say that the State presented no candidate.

Mr. Steele of California said this was a mistake, and said that the majority carried, so a recess of one hour was taken.

At 2 P. M. the delegates are reassembling. The various State delegations are conversing informally in the hall. There seems to be a general conviction that the second place on the ticket must be assigned to a soldier. The names of Gen. F. P. Blair, Gen. Thomas Ewing. Jr., Gen. Hancock, and Gen. Morgan, of Ohlo, are freely canvessed in this connection. Hancock's locality as a Pennsylvanian is urged as a tatal objection to him. Since New York has the Presidential nomination Ewing appears popular. The friends of Blar urge that the latter will excite more enthusiasm among soldiers. It is said that New York will probably give him her vote. It is now understood that before the recess Judge Woodward, on behalf of Pennsylvania, was to nominate Blair. Her delegation is much divided between Blair, Morgan, and nate Blair. Her delegation is much divided between Blair, Morgan, and Ewing. Gen. McClernand, of Illinois, is also talked of for Vice President.

Mr. Price called the Convention to order at 2:30, Governor Saymour having returned to his quarters at the St.

Illinois presented the name of John A. McClernand, a compeer of Clay and Webster, a distinguished General of the late war, whose brain conceived the capture of Vleksburg, though the credit of that achievement was given credit of that achievement was given to a much inferior man. [Uheers.]
Gen. McClernand rose to thank the Convention, but asked the delegation to withdraw his name. [Cries of "no, no."] He had no object except to assist in relieving the country from the thraldom which now binds it. He said the soldiers would heartily accept the nomination of Seymour. The soldiers and sailors were not all for a show here—a creature of fortuitous circumstances. More than half of them would
